

HUMAN LIBRARY IN-TAKE FORM

Thinking of becoming a book for our Human Library?

First, decide if this is something for you. Do you defy a stereotype? Are you like an open book and do you have valuable experiences that readers could benefit from learning about? Are you motivated to help challenge stigma and stereotypes through dialogue and personal conversations? Then fill our Human Library in-take form and tell us why you would like to meet readers and what experiences you have to share. Naturally you need to be motivated to answer questions from strangers and have patience and empathy.

Being a book means being available for 2 hours on Thursday, October 12th between the hours of 10 am and 8 pm.

If you require assistance in completing this form, please come to the library reference desk for support. You can also call us at 613-584-4244 or email the programming librarian, Robin, at rdennis@deeperiverlibrary.ca
